Can a student enrolled in course on the Main Campus or UA South take classes through UA Online?

No, access to the seats available in UA Online course sections is limited to students who are earning their UA degrees or certificates entirely online. Some Main Campus or UA South classes may be co-convened with sections of UA Online courses, however, meaning that the some of the other students in your classes may be from another of our UA campuses. This is one more way we bring together Wildcats from around the state, country and world.
